6.5.2 The institution reviews its teaching learning process, structures & methodologies of operations and learning outcomes at periodic intervals through IQAC set up as per norms and recorded the incremental improvement in various activities

The primary aim of IQAC is continuous development with periodic reviews.

Every faculty member prepared a course outcome based on the syllabus of course. Then it is submitted to director for approval and uploaded on website. After end of every semester it is evaluated by faculty member that course outcomes or learning outcomes are achieved or not and report is submitted to IQAC for review.

The institution reviews its teaching learning process, structures and methodologies of operation and their learning outcomes at periodic levels with the help of IQAC by following measures:

1. Review of teaching learning methods, techniques and tools used by teachers

The monitoring of teaching learning is accomplished by:

- Taking and analyzing feedback from students.
- Monitoring the content delivered by teachers.
- Evaluating internal & external assessment of students.
- Attending lectures of faculty members.

The major observations by IQAC are:

- Students face difficulty in understanding in-depth content of lectures.
- Students need more interactive teaching in classrooms.

2. Implementation of teaching learning reforms by IQAC

To enhance teaching learning process following measures were undertaken:

- Faculty Development programs were conducted.
- To bring in more improve lecture plans, content delivery and interaction with students counseling sessions of faculty were taken as required.
- Faculties were encouraged to use more practical approach for teaching by showing relevant videos for respective subjects.

- Introduction of taking Multiple Choice Quiz assessment for different subjects through MOODLE as test to check understanding level of students.
- Remedial classes were taken for identified students.
